Director's Report Josias Bartram June 13, 2024

Budget & Financials

The 2024 financials are on track.

- We were a little worried that payroll and benefits would be tight this year, but that's no longer an issue with the turnover we are currently experiencing.
- In fact, we have the budget for overtime, and I will be authorizing it as needed to help address the staffing shortage.

The 2025 Budget process has started.

- We are using a news software system and anticipate some wrinkles.
- The budget manual is included in the packet.
- Most of our increases will be related to new positions, along with a couple related to collections.
- I will be going over the process and an outline of our request in the meeting.
- Our request is due June 28th. It will be on the agenda for the July Board Meeting for your approval.

Personnel

We are currently experiencing an extreme amount of staff turnover combined with a long-term medical leave. Some of this is reflected in the agenda. I've never had this many items under Appointments, Resignations, and Terminations. But it's actually even a little deeper than is apparent.

- The Personnel Committee is meeting immediately before the Board to be briefed on some of the more sensitive issues. We will also be briefing the full Board in an executive session.
- We have approval for a Temp Librarian I position and have a candidate working her way through the hiring process. If all goes as planned, she will be based in Youth Services to help cover Summer Reading and desk time.
- We are going to be moving Information Services operations to the front (Circ) desk on a trial basis. Some version of this change is also part of the long-term plan, but there are a lot of logistics to be figured out before it can be permanently implemented.
- We are asking the Board to consider shortening our hours on a temporary/emergency basis.
 - As the Central Library, we are required to be open 60 hours/week and we are currently at the minimum.
 - I confirmed with Steve Bachman that the State will not object to us being under that number on an emergency basis.
 - The issue is having a Building Supervisor present whenever we're open, which is absolutely necessary for everyone's safety. Between turnover and medical leave, we are down from 7 potential supervisors to 4.
 - We are proposing dropping down to 54 hours, which would allow us to close at 5pm two additional weekdays. This removes the need for a second shift. As of now, we are thinking that we would close early on Wednesday and Thursday, but this is something that I want to figure out with key staff early next week.

Our first Staff Development Day is planned for Monday June 24th. The Library will be closed to the public. We are planning a combination of working sessions and relaxing/de-stressing activities. As usual, the Friends will be providing our Lunch.

Our new Break Room is getting a lot of use and appreciation. It makes a big difference.

Assistant Director's Report

Sherry Kowalski

June 10, 2024

- The master gardeners from CCE have been bringing over leafy greens every week for the F2L fridge. That will be winding down as they get mid and late season crops planted. We will start purchasing produce from Russel Farms very soon and continue until November. Russel Farms will be able to deliver.
- Josias has tasked me with creating a new annual performance evaluation form. One of the group working sessions at the June 24th staff development day will be to look at the draft form that I created and develop a process for annual evaluations.
- After nearly 24 years, desk chairs are being replaced. Most of the chairs have been ordered, the last few will be ordered by the end of the month.
- We are all very excited to have a staff room. I was on the committee that was formed to set up the staff room. This room is also where all the office supplies are stored. I moved the supplies from the administration office and organized and labeled the cabinets.
- The Broome County IT Department has secured a contract with Constant Contact, and they are setting up accounts for departments. It is my goal to get all contacts transferred from Mail Chimp to Constant Contact by the end of the month and send out the July newsletter with Constant Contact.
- After trying since February to get ProQuest to send a contract for Newspapers.com, we now have a contract to bring to the Board. This database will be invaluable for genealogy research. If this is approved by the Board, my next challenge is getting it approved by the Broome County Purchasing Department.
- I attended the budget kick-off meeting and training for the new budget software with Josias. Unfortunately, the training was not hands. Hopefully once we get the green light to login, it won't be too difficult to figure out.
- I have been submitting most of the personnel forms for all the recent staff changes. I am finally starting to feel comfortable with this process.

Information Services Report May 2024

There were more Miscellaneous posts because I wasn't sure where else the cutest pet contest posts and some of the posts where Gerald the Giraffe models excellent library use. I see this as a sign that our social media team have wonderful imaginations more than anything else.

The most popular post by a wide margin was this post celebrating the newly installed model of downtown Binghamton. This post had more than 18K impressions and more than 18K reach. Second place had a little more than 6K.

I am not just getting sentimental because this is my last report for the Broome County Public Library but the fact that this team of 3 (4 if you count me too) has more than 200 in attendance and more than 40 programs is absolutely astounding. This is a team that also handles social media, book displays, book purchasing, outreach and web presence. There are teams with more people and with specialists doing any and/or all of the bolded tasks listed above that are not hitting these kinds of numbers.

These numbers are also in the face of the very popular yoga program being cancelled due to the instructor being out on medical leave and the coloring program only now slowly regaining its momentum due to the group dealing with grief after losing one of its elder members.

We also might want to look into asking a new member of the team to become a notary, as the demand was quite high for this service.

My suggestion moving forward would be to guide each member of the team towards hosting, at most, 1 or 2 low-impact programs that are personally important to them and/or that give them return energy on their time and effort investment. I would urge the Information Services team to continue outreach so that we would host more community organizations that want to share their educational resources to bring them to the library.
